

PCE students undertake massive social work in 7-day NSS camp

LOKMAT NEWS NETWORK
NAGPUR, FEB 17

Priyadarshini College of Engineering organised a seven-day NSS camp at Isasani, Nagpur.

The NSS unit of PCE conducted activities like street play on Swachh Bharat Abhiyan along with rally and blood donation camp for students AND faculty members.

In the tree plantation drive that was organised, the students planted 50 saplings around the village.

They also conducted a health awareness programme and literacy campaign for the children of the village.

A very sensitive issue of stray dogs was dealt with during the camp. Radium belts were tied to the stray dogs to avoid accidents at night. This training was given to the villagers. A special seminar by RISE organisation was held for females about awareness of the menstruation problems.

PCE students during a seven day NSS camp organised at Isasani

The gynecologists also educated the villagers about disposals of sanitary pads. A special lecture by RISE member, Surbhi Nayyar, for boys on gender inequality was held.

A deaddiction campaign was also organised for villagers. All the activities were organised under the banner of NSS Unit of PCE, Nagpur. Principal Dr M P Singh and vice-principal Dr S A Dhale appreciated the students' approach to corporate social responsibility.

Dean (Student Welfare Council, Dr P R Rothe, HoD of ET Dr S W Varade, HOD, CT, Dr Nita Thakare, NSS nodal officer, of PCE, Prof Nitin S Ambatkar with all NSS teacher co-ordinators guided students for these activities. President of

NSS Abhishek S Lanjewar, vice-president, of NSS, Mitali Bawankule Punam, secretary, of NSS, D Wadhi, treasurer of NSS, Chetan S Juare, executive member in-charge NSS, Vikki Lokhande, Bhushan Joshi and all 50 NSS members worked hard for the success of the event.